

Diagram showing new grounding and bonding connections where inside and outside water lines and water meter are metallic.

Path the electricity will take if a power company connection neutral is broken is shown in RED

